California's State Seal

During the constitutional convention, a member named Caleb Lyon presented a design for a state seal. The seal's design showed these pictures to tell about ideas that were important to California:

Goddess Minerva - Minerva (Athena in Greek mythology) in Roman mythology was said to have been born from the head of the god Jupiter into a full-grown adult. She was included to show California's quick rise to statehood without first becoming a territory like most other states.

Grizzly Bear - California's state animal

Prospector/Miner - The gold rush

Grain - Agriculture

Ships - Economic power and trade

Water - San Francisco Bay

Eureka - written across the top of the picture and means "I found it". Made popular during the gold rush because prospectors would shout it out they found gold.
